Liberal Standard in Interior Riding

Trail, B.C., May 3.—Donald MacDonald, barrister of Trail, was chosen standard bearer for the Liberal party in this constituency to oppose J. H. Schofield, M.P.P., Conservative, in the forthcoming provincial general election in the party nominating convention here last night.

Frederick Fraser, barrister, of Trail, and John McDonald of Roseland, also nominated, were defeated in the balloting.
Mr. Fraser was elected president temporarily of the Trail-Roseland Liberal Association, which it was decided last night to organize in place of the previous separate associations of Roseland and of Trail. Thomas Emberton of Roseland, was elected vice-president and J. Skinner of Trail secretary. The officers of the two previous organizations will collaborate with the officers elected last night to draw up the constitution of the new district organization.

and Major S. P. M. Moodie of Victoria, Liberal organizer, addressed the meeting, which was well attended.

Ex-minister of Newfoundland Opposes Union

St. John's, Nfld., May 3.—The question of Newfoundland joining Canada was brought up in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon during the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, when Hon. Dr. Campbell, who was Minister of Agriculture in the administration of Sir Richard Squires, declared Newfoundland "had everything to lose and nothing to gain" by becoming a Canadian province.

Dr. Campbell referred to the recent debate in the Canadian Senate on the subject of Newfoundland's entry into the Confederation, and strongly expressed his opinion that the colony as an "outpost" would be at "even greater disadvantage than the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, as shown by the Duncan report."

There are now 340,000 boy scouts and 430,000 girl guides in Great Britain.

operative News Organization Held in Toronto

More Churches Declared Needed

Woodstock, May 3.—Rev. Dr. S. B. Nelson of Hamilton, addressing the Presbyterian Synod of Hamilton and London at its closing sessions here yesterday, charged some of the minority churches with being weak in submitting to the loss of their church buildings through church union, without putting up a fight.

"They are more civilized in the North of Ireland than in Canada," he declared. "If this had been done in the land where I was born the minorities would not have been put out of their churches. They would have stayed there and defied the king."

Despite Dr. Nelson's protest, the report on homeless congregations and minority groups was adopted. It showed that forty-seven groups had lost their churches in the Synod and of these twenty-one still were homeless.

IMMIGRATION WORK OF C.N.R. IS EXPLAINED

Winnipeg, May 3.—The Canadian National Railways are spending four times as much money and effort in an endeavor to secure British immigrants for Canada as they are spending on all other types of immigration combined, according to Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture for the system, in Winnipeg to-day with Vice-president W. D. Robb.

In spite of this expenditure, it is only with difficulty that the right type of British immigrant could be secured. Dr. Black said, while immigration from foreign countries was flourishing with scarcely any effort on the part of the railway company to foster it.

It was the desire of the National system to increase land settlement by securing settlers with sufficient capital to set up for themselves after a short preliminary training in Canadian agricultural methods, Mr. Robb said. The proportion of such people arriving in Canada had shown an encouraging increase this year.

Ex-Crown Prince Of Roumania Is Now in London

London, May 3.—The London Daily Express to-day said there was a political mystery behind the visit of Former Crown Prince Carol of Roumania to England. Important conferences were being held both in London and Roumania, but Carol was keeping a strict silence, being anxious to avoid a premature disclosure of his plans. He was in touch with the latest developments of the Roumanian political situation. The paper said it was understood the prince had under consideration an important announcement to synchronize with certain political events in Roumania.

Carol and Magda Lupescu, with whom he eloped, renouncing his right to the Roumanian throne, appeared together at a London theatre last night and occupied the royal box. The titillated Magda wore an ermine cloak which women in the audience estimated to be worth a fortune.

Six Lose Lives In Storm in Roumania

Bucharest, Roumania, May 3.—Six children were killed when large hailstones fell during a hurricane at Klausenburg while the people were celebrating May Day. Ten persons were injured. Many shop windows were smashed.

Effort to Unseat Mayor of Montreal

Montreal, May 3.—More than one-half of the total number of votes cast for Camille Houde at the recent mayoralty election in Montreal were illegal, it is claimed in a petition to annul the election presented before Mr. Justice Demers in the Practice Court here yesterday.

The petition recites in addition a long list of fraudulent election practices, claimed to have been committed in connection with the municipal vote of April 2 last, and demands in conclusion that the mayor be unseated and disqualified from holding the office for a period of three years.

The court issued a writ calling upon the mayor to appear and make answer within the legal limit.

Funds Voted For Missionaries' Work

Toronto, May 3.—The annual statement of the United Church of Canada shows the givings of the congregations in the three years of church union amounted to $8,800,000.

Estimates for maintenance of the work of 600 foreign missionaries and 1,800 associates and helpers in the foreign fields of the United Church of Canada for 1928, totaling $1,042,622, have been adopted by the Board of Foreign Missions.

"BUILD B.C." It Gives Better Coffee

A lady in this city took the pains to write us recently a very nice letter. Too long to quote in full here we take a paragraph. Since my husband and I are both French we are very fond of coffee; many of my friends claim I make the best coffee they ever tasted, and I have always insisted the reason is to be found in the milk. I use Pacific Milk always. We prefer it to cream. Many thanks to Mrs. A.

The Water-Color Finish for Walls and Ceilings

The "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE

Author of "The Benson Murder Case"

"Now, the thing that's been bothering us most is that side door. How did it get unbolted after 6 o'clock? Who bolted it again after the crime? Skel must come in by it before 11, because he was in the apartment when Spotswoode and Odell returned from the theatre and he probably went out by it after Cleaver had come to the apartment at about midnight."

"But that wasn't explaining how it got bolted again on the inside. Well, sir, I studied over this for a long time yesterday, and then I went up to the house and took another look at the switchboard, and I asked him where Jessup was, for I wanted to ask him some questions. And Spively told me he'd quit his job the day before—Saturday afternoon."

"I was on my way downtown before the idea came to me. Then it hit me sudden-like, and the whole case broke up. I took his finger-prints and sent 'em to Dubois. I thought I might get a line on him that way, because crooks don't generally begin with a job as big as the Canary proof."

Heath permitted himself a grin of satisfaction. "Well, sir, Dubois nailed him up! His name ain't Jessup at all. You're right, William part is all right, but his real moniker is Benton. He was convicted of assault and battery in Oakland in 1909, and served a year in the Queen's when Skel was a prisoner there. He was also grabbed as a lookout in a bank robbery in Brooklyn in 1914, but didn't come to trial—that's how we happened to have his finger-prints at headquarters."

"When we put him on the grill last night, he said he changed his name after the Brooklyn racket, and enlisted in the army. That's all we could get outa him; but we didn't need any more. Now, here are the facts: Jessup has served time for assault and battery. He was mixed up in a bank robbery. Skel was a fellow prisoner of his. He's got no alibi for Saturday night when Skel was killed, and he lives round the corner. He quit his job suddenly Saturday afternoon."

"He's husky and strong and could easily have done the business. He was planning his getaway when we nabbed him. And—he's the only person who could've unbolted and rebolted that side door Monday night. Is that a case, or ain't it, Mr. Markham?" Markham sat several minutes in thought. "It's a good case as far as it goes," he said slowly. "But what was his motive in strangling the girl?"

"That's easy, Mr. Vance. He suggested it the first day. You remember he asked Jessup about his feelings for Odell, and Jessup turned red and got nervous."

"Oh, Lord!" exclaimed Vance. "Am I to be made responsible for any part of this priceless lunacy? True, I tried into the chap's emotions toward the lady, but that was before anything had come to light. I was being careful—tryin' to test each possibility as it arose."

"Well, that was a lucky question of yours, just the same." Heath turned back to Markham. "As I see it, Jessup was stuck on Odell, and she told him to trot along and sell his papers. He got all worked up over it, sitting there night after night, seeing these other guys calling on her. Then—Skel—comes along—and, recognizing him, suggests burgling Odell's apartment. Skel can't do the job without help, for he has to pass the phone operator coming and going; and as he's been there before, he'd be recognized."

"Jessup sees a chance of getting even with Odell and putting the blame on someone else; so the two of 'em took up the job for Monday night. When Odell goes out Jessup unlocks the side door, and the Dude lets himself into the apartment with his own key. Then Odell and Spotswoode arrive unexpectedly. Skel hides in the closet, and after Spotswoode has gone, he accidentally makes a noise, and Odell screams. He steps out, and when she sees who he is, she tells Spotswoode it's a mistake."

"Jessup now knows Skel has been discovered and decides to make use of the fact. Soon after Spotswoode has gone, he enters the apartment with past-key. Skel, thinking it's some body else, hides again in the closet; and then Jessup grabs the girl and strangles her, intending to let Skel get the credit for it. But Skel comes out of hiding and they talk it over. Finally they come to an agreement, and proceed with their original plan to loot the place."

"Jessup tries to open the jewel-case with the poker, and Skel finishes the job with his chisel. They then go out. Skel leaves by the side door, and Jessup rebolts it. The next day Skel hands the swag to Jessup to keep till things blow over; and Jessup gets scared and throws it away. Then they have a row. Skel decides to tell the cops, so he can get out from under; and Jessup, suspecting he's going to do it, goes round to his house Saturday night and strangles him like he did Odell."

Heath made a gesture of finality and sank back in his chair. "Clever—deuced clever," murmured Vance. "Sergeant, I apologize for my little outburst a moment ago. Your logic is irreproachable. You've reconstructed the crime beautifully. You've solved the case. It's wonderful—simply wonderful. But it's wrong."

"It's right enough to send Mr. Jessup to the chair." "That's the terrible thing about logic," said Vance. "It so often leads one irresistibly to a false conclusion." He stood up and walked across the room and back, his hands in his coat pockets. When he came abreast of Heath, he halted. "I say, Sergeant: If somebody else could have unlocked that side door, and then rebolted it again after the crime, you'd be willing to admit that it would weaken your case against Jessup—eh, what?"

Heath was in a generous mood. "Sergeant, show me someone else who could do that, and I'll admit that maybe I'm wrong." "Skel could have done it, Sergeant. And he did do it—without anyone knowing it."

CHAPTER XLIII

"Skel!—This ain't the age of miracles, Mr. Vance."

Vance swung about and faced Markham. "Listen! I'm telling you Jessup's innocent." He spoke with a fervor that amazed him. "And I'm going to prove it to you—some way. My theory is pretty complete; it's deficient only in one or two small points; and, I confess, I haven't been able to put a name to the culprit. But it's the right theory, Markham, and it's diametrically opposed to the sergeant's."

"Therefore you've got to give me an opportunity to demonstrate it before you proceed against Jessup. Now, I can't demonstrate it here; so you and Heath must come with me to the Odell house. It won't take over an hour. But if it took a week, you'd have to come just the same."

He stepped nearer to the desk. "I know that it was Skel, and not Jessup, who unbolted that door before the crime, and rebolted it afterward." Markham was impressed.

"You know this—you know it for a fact?" "Yes! And I know how he did it!" (Monday, September 17, 11:30 a.m.)

Half an hour later we entered the little apartment house in Seventy-first Street. Despite the plausibility of Heath's case against Jessup, Markham was not entirely satisfied with the arrest; and Vance's attitude had sown further seeds of doubt in his mind.

The strongest point against Jessup was that relating to the bolting and unbolting of the side door; and when Vance had asserted that he was able to demonstrate how Skel could have manipulated his own entrance and exit, Markham, though only partly convinced, had agreed to accompany him. Heath, too, was interested, and, though supercilious, had expressed a willingness to go along.

Spively, scintillant in his chocolate-colored suit, was at the switchboard, and stared at us apprehensively. But when Vance suggested pleasantly that he take a ten-minute walk round the block, he appeared greatly relieved and lost no time in complying.

The officer on guard outside of the Odell apartment came forward and saluted.

"How goes it?" asked Heath. "Any visitors?"

May Seal Toad In Cornerstone

Seattle, May 3.—Seattle is about to try to solve the horned toad mystery, but it will take thirty-one years. William J. Coyle, manager of the Seattle Civic Auditorium, to-day presented a

YOUR BABY and MINE

for Mother's Day

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

FINISHED THINGS SHOULD HAVE A VALUE

Betty is six years old and extremely clever with her hands. She is able to draw and paint and sews innumerable doll rags. Her mother is an extremely indulgent one. Any thing Betty wishes to do is all right. When she rifles her mother's drawers and uses whatever she finds for her dolls, her mother just laughs. When she goes into a stranger's home and insists on opening the ice box and demands what she can have to eat, her mother thinks it cunning.

Betty has always been an inveterate seamstress. She can amuse herself cutting and sewing for hours at a time. When materials for this constant sewing are not forthcoming she has been allowed to cut up the doll's bed sheets or the doll's blanket (to make a coat), or even old handkerchiefs. When it was pointed out to her mother that by so doing Betty would tend to lose all sense of the value of "finished" articles and feel that any use to which she put a thing was more important than its present use, her mother could not see it.

"If the doll coat is more important to her than the doll blanket, I think she should have the coat."

All of these chickens came home to roost with a particular bang the other day, when Betty took from the wall an ivory miniature of her mother and proceeded to paint it up to suit her own fancy with an indelible red pencil.

The mother could think of no punishment severe enough for this offense, but she has come to understand that while a whipping might prevent Betty from taking the miniature from the wall again, the real cause of the trouble was the attitude which Betty had toward finished things. A five-cent handkerchief has a value just because it is a handkerchief and not a scrap of unfinished material. Even if the mother argues that it only cost five cents in the beginning and may as well be sacrificed as some other piece of material, she makes a mistake when she allows the child to cut into it. The doll blanket was important because it represented a finished and useful article, and to be able to cut it to pieces minimized its value in the child's eyes. To you, the old book may be quite suitable for cutting up, but if the child makes a habit of cutting up books he may some day slash into one which is valuable to you. Never belittle the value of finished things whatever their cost.

THREE VICTORIANS ON BISLEY TEAM

Red-headed Comet of Victoria Wins Bike Race In Vancouver

"Big Bill" Peden, Smiling as Usual, Given Great Ovation When He Wins Province Cup Race Around Stanley Park and Shaved Nearly Five Seconds From Record; Has Good Help From Stan Jackson, Who Aided in Series of Sprints Which Were Down Jim Davies, Who Finally Finished Third

Vancouver, May 3.—Breaking all official records for the course, William J. ("Bill") Peden, of Victoria, won the ninth annual Province bicycle road race around Stanley Park Wednesday evening. He led home the classic field of senior riders that has ever graced this annual cycling classic, but it was one of the rankest outsiders of the twelve to start, who carried off second-place honors.

Fred Carson, last year's Class "B" rider, refused to be shaken in Peden's break from the field, and battled him to the line.

The Victoria man had little to spare as they finished.

Jim Davies, winner for the last three years, was third, sprinting in ahead of the remainder of the class, which was bunched far behind Peden and Carson.

CUT DOWN TIME

Peden's time was 15 minutes 9 1-2 seconds. He established the previous record of 15 minutes 13 seconds in the Moody cup race, which was held over the same course last fall.

By Peden, Victoria entry in Class "B" did not start, his tires having blown out just before his class was scheduled to get away.

Harold Davies, brother of Jim, and winner of Class "D" last year, upheld the honor of the family by finishing a good first in Class "C". He beat Glen Robbins and Ingham McGavin, husky Victoria youths, by a good margin.

WORKED TOGETHER

To Stanley Jackson, almost as much as Peden, does Victoria owe its victory last night. Throughout the race, the work of these men was evident. They manoeuvred in such a manner as to ride into submission Jim Davies, Canadian champion, whom they considered their greatest danger. Their plan, apparently, was to stage a series of sprints, in each case one hanging back, until Davies was forced to go out to pull down the lead while the other Victoria man was sitting in behind until this had been done, when he would go out in an attempt to break away.

DAVIES HAD TO GO OUT

Peden took the lead from the start and before very long had an advantage of about twenty yards. No one else taking the initiative Davies was forced to go out and set the pace to catch Peden.

Peden caught Jackson, who had let Davies break wind for him, and made a break as riders neared Brockton Point. Again Davies was forced to go out and close the gap or allow Jackson to break away altogether.

Just before the hairpin bend Peden broke again, and Davies, worn out by his previous sprints, could not hold him. Peden gained quite a margin as the riders tumbled up the hill.

PEDEN OUTLASTS THEM

Here Carson, who had been sitting back taking pace all the way, came to the front, and before the top of the hill was reached, had caught Peden. Davies led the rest in a desperate sprint to catch Peden as they entered the downhill stretch.

Peden, with Carson still hanging on like grim death, finished in front. Davies dropped to the rear about a quarter of a mile from the finish and then, as the victor over the park road, at the entrance, loomed, he uncocked the sprint for which he is noted, but it carried him to only a third place victory. Leo Marchiori was fifth, behind Jackson.

Peden, who is a prime favorite with followers of cycling here, received a big ovation from the crowd. He was just a big smiling kid and was in no distress at the finish, despite his great efforts. He seems to possess unlimited endurance.

St. Princess Kathleen takes an excursion to Seattle, Saturday, May 12, leaving at 9 a.m.

BILL PEDEN
When "Big Bill" won the Province Cup race in Vancouver last night he established beyond question his right to be called the cycling champion of British Columbia. He outdistanced Jim Davies, the Canadian champion, "Big Bill's" next step now is to Toronto, where he will contest for a place on the Canadian Olympic team as well as for Canadian championships.

Dean, Great Factor In Helping Everton Win English Soccer Title

International Centre Forward's Play Is Outstanding; Team Richly Deserve Their Success; Huddersfield Falter at Crucial Moment Before Aston Villa and Lose Last Chance; Manchester City and Leeds to Be Promoted; Six Teams in Danger of Relegation

London, May 3 (Canadian Press Cable).—Everton have won the championship of the First Division of the English Football League. Huddersfield, who were in the running until yesterday, lost their chance for the blue ribbon.

Everton deserved their success. They started the season with a rush, slipped about two months ago and then pulled themselves together to finish strongly. Dean, their international centre-forward, has been a great factor in their success.

Huddersfield had the chance to win both the English Cup and the championship, but failed badly in both competitions on the crucial tests. One more set of games remains to be played, and the chief interest in them will rest in what teams must be relegated.

IN DANGER OF PASSING

Teams who are in danger of going from the First to the Second Division are: Tottenham, Sheffield United, Middlesbrough, Sunderland, Manchester United and The Wednesday.

In the Second Division, Manchester City and Leeds United will be promoted, though Saturday's games will decide which of these two teams is champion of this section. South Shields is sure of demotion, but the team to accompany them into the third division is not settled. Southampton, Clapton, Fulham and Blackpool are in danger.

"LAND YACHT" IS SEIZED SO PYLE FLIVVERS

Promotor of Marathon Deprived of $25,000 Luxury Car By Sheriff

Peter Gavuzzi, Without His Beard, Loses Few Minutes of His Lead

Pontiac, Ills., May 3.—Harry Rea, Long Beach, Cal., led the transcontinental racers through the 34.7 mile lap from Normal, Ills., to the sixty-first control here to-day. His time was 4:05.33. Rea has covered the 2,300 miles from Los Angeles in 46:05.36 to hold thirteenth place in the race.

Peter Gavuzzi, Great Britain's representative, who is leading the race, finished in a dead heat for second place with John Salo and Otto Wantilien, New York. Their times were 4:32.03.

Normal, Ills., May 3.—Charley C. Pyle did not loiter about in his $25,000 "Land Yacht" to watch his army of transcontinental racers plod their way to fame and fortune to-day. Instead he rode in an open flivver.

The luxury that has been his since the start of the cross-country derby at Los Angeles, March 4, was ended abruptly near Joliet yesterday when a deputy sheriff seized the "Land Yacht," a twelve-ton truck, equipped with a radio, shower bath, berth, electrical refrigerator and every modern convenience.

The writ was drawn in favor of the defunct Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Champaign, Ills., receivers of which say Pyle owes the bank $21,500 on an unsecured note. When the cash was not forthcoming the deputy confronted Pyle with the writ and took the truck. Pyle then had to hire a car to take him to Normal, last night's stop.

BYE-BYE BEARD

Peter Gavuzzi, of Southampton, Eng., lost thirty-five minutes and one second of his lead in the derby by finishing in a tie for sixteenth place in the 34.6-mile jaunt from Lincoln to Normal yesterday, but still retained his lead over the field of seventy-one runners of four hours and fifty-one minutes. It was the first day the Englishman had run in the derby without his beard.

Taking the defeat as an ill-omen, he intends to grow a new beard to carry all the way to New York, the final stop.

Andrew Payne, of Charemore, Okla., still holds second place with the time of 37:41.53 for the 2,265.3 miles traversed so far.

OFF FOR PONTIAC

Pontiac, Ills., was to-day's destination. After Friday, Pyle has informed the runners, forty miles will be the minimum daily run.

The elapsed time of the ten leaders was as follows:

Peter Gavuzzi, England, 37:41.49.
Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 37:41.33.
John Salo, Passaic, N.J., 40:08.19.
Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 41:21.00.
Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 42:36.52.
Ed. Gardner, Seattle, 42:41.47.
William Kerr, Minneapolis, 42:41.47.
Giusto Umek, Italy, 42:52.06.
John Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., 43:24.17.
Louis Perela, Albany, New York, 43:25.13.

Winnipeg Shows 'Em—By Jimmy Thompson

James Ball, of the Manitoba Track and Field Club of Winnipeg, is one of the fastest quarter-milers ever developed in Canada. At the Canadian championships held in Toronto last August he defeated a field of the best "440" men in the Dominion, breasting the tape ahead of such well-known runners as Stanley Glover, then of Saskatoon, now of Edmonton, the title-holder in 1926; Alan Christie, of the University of Toronto, the star of the Intercollegiate, and Horace Aylwin, of Hamilton. Ball's time in winning this race was fifty seconds flat, a smart performance, which stamps him as a runner of Olympic calibre. While Ed. Percy, of Toronto Central Y.M.C.A., was entered in this race he was unable to perform up to standard owing to a sprained ankle, but it is questionable if he would have been able to defeat speedy Westerner even had he been at his best. Ball finished a yard or two ahead of Glover, who in turn was about the same distance ahead of Christie. The quartette of quarter-milers mentioned should provide interesting competition when they meet at Hamilton on June 30, and July 2, at the official Canadian Olympic trials with Ball conceded the best chance of making the trip to the Olympic games.

HELEN BETTER BUT MUST REST

Germans Pay Her Visit and She Hopes to Play in Berlin Later in Season

Paris, May 3.—Helen Wills is getting the better of her attack of bronchitis. She was able to leave her rooms yesterday for a brief airing and announced that she was rounding into form.

The veteran, German tennis player, Heinrich Kleinschroth, who made a special trip from Berlin to present the sympathy of the Germans to the little Californian, called on her yesterday and found her greatly improved, but agreed that she was wise to take a complete rest until her matches in Amsterdam, which were able to leave her rooms yesterday for a brief airing and announced that she was rounding into form.

"Berlin is one of the leading cities of the world where I have never played. I hope a visit can be arranged."

SIDNEY DEFEAT TILlicUMS IN PITCHERS' DUEL

Last Year's Champions Win Opening Commercial League Baseball Game 2-1

Steele Pitches Fine Game For Winners; Tillicums Unable to Hit in Pinches

In a real pitcher's battle Sidney, last year's champions, defeated the youthful Tillicums 2-1 in the opening game of the Commercial Baseball League played last night at the Royal Athletic Park. For the opening game play was very good, the teams appearing in mid-season form.

A large crowd of fans occupied the grandstand and thoroughly enjoyed the struggle.

Wade Steele, on the mound for Sidney, pitched good ball, striking out seven men. He got himself into several tight holes but managed to hurt himself out of the trouble.

Pete Campbell, except for a bad start in the first inning, was right on form and his fine pitching resulted in six Sidney batters whiffing the air.

TILlicUMS MISSED CHANCES

The Tillicums had a couple of fine chances to tie up the score, or even obtain the lead, but they were unable to hit the ball in the pinches and as a result had to taste defeat at the hands of their most bitter rivals.

Sidney shoved one runner across in the first inning. Lines and Mitchell, the first two men to the plate, worked Campbell for walks. The next batter struck out but Brown drove a hot single over first base and Lines scored. Brown was caught at second attempting to stretch the hit. The next hitter grounded out to Kenny at second.

In the fourth inning the Tillicums had their big chance. Doherty, the first man up, slashed out a single and went to second on a wild peg. Hilton hit to centre field for a single and then stole second. With a man on third and second and nobody out it looked as though the clubmen might get at least one run home. However, the next three men to bat failed to connect safely with the ball.

THE WINNING RUN

In the sixth inning Sidney scored their second and winning run. Crossley singled to centre field, went to second on a single by Simpson, and scored on Gilman's hit to centre field.

The Tillicums came back in their half of the inning and pushed one runner across. Pete Campbell singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and came home on a wild throw to first by Mitchell.

The first ball was thrown was Andy McGavin, donor of the league trophy, while F. B. Richardson, president of the league, was behind the plate.

The teams were as follows: Tillicums—Hilton, Campbell, Steele, Kenny, Saville, Dunnett, Doherty, Bari and McLaren.
Sidney—Lines, Steele, Mitchell, Crossley, Simpson, Brown, Gilman, Williams and Jackson.

Lower Curtain On Football On Saturday

Victoria Wests and Saanich Thistles to Meet in Deciding Game for Combination Cup; Both First Division and Wednesday League Have Experienced Profitable Seasons; Playing of Saanich Thistles Big Surprise; Exhibition Game Arranged for May 24 With Nanaimo

Saturday will witness the drop of the curtain on the local football season. In the final game of what has been a very successful year the Victoria Wests are slated to hook up with the Saanich Thistles in the deciding match for the Combination Cup.

Competition in the First Division has been keen this season, with all the clubs pretty evenly matched. The big surprise was the splendid showing made by the youthful Saanich Thistles. Starting off with a rush at the very start they swept everything before them and carried off the league championship. Since winning the title, however, they dropped off somewhat, and Esquimalt regained the limelight, which they had to themselves all last season, strengthened by several stars from other local clubs.

No word has yet been received as to whether any of the local teams will enter in the Connaught Cup series, emblematic of the soccer championship of Canada. One good club might be fielded to represent the city.

MID-WEEK LEAGUE ENDS

The Wednesday Football League have already finished their activities for the present season. Renzie and Taylor captured all the honors.

Saturday's game between the Wests and Thistles should be keenly contested. Both will field strong clubs and the Wests will be hot after a win as to date they have failed to lift a trophy.

The juvenile league intends to stage two cup games—one previous to the senior fixture and one after.

Some Stretch Winning Streak, Others At End Must Start All Over

New York Giants Win Third Straight Game From Brooklyn, While Pittsburgh Make It Three in Tow With Tenth-inning Rally Against Chicago; Cincinnati Win Second From St. Louis Cards; Yankees Halted at Seven Straight by Washington, Who End Long Losing Streak

The shift of the scenes from the first interseasonal series of 1928 in the major leagues finds John J. McGraw and Miller J. Huggins occupying the position to which they have become accustomed—the top berth in the standing of the clubs of the two major leagues. McGraw, it is true, has had to vacate this home many times in the past few years, but he believes he can defend his present lease against immediate attempts to oust him.

Before setting out for Cincinnati, where the Giants' western invasion will open to-morrow, McGraw watched his entry round out the Brooklyn series by taking a third straight game from the Robins, 2-1. The game, a pitching duel between Larry Benton and Jim Ellison, was decided on home turf by Lindstrom and John, the only two hits Elliott gave in the seven innings he worked.

WON HIS OWN GAME

Joe Dawson, the Louisville recruit, cornered most of the glory of the Pittsburgh Pirates when he tossed out the Chicago Cubs 9-8 in the tenth inning at the expense of Art Nehf. Joe did nothing much, but held the Cubs to two small hits through the last four rounds, and smacked out a triple which decided the game in the tenth. It was the third straight Pittsburgh victory over the Cubs.

Cincinnati made two straight over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, while the Phillies got even with the Braves for certain past misdeeds. The Phillies finally won 9-3.

YANKS DUE TO LOSE

The Yankees were pounded, 9-5, in the American League, but they were about due. A New York winning streak of seven games and a Washington losing spurt of eight disappeared at one and the same time. Sam Jones was credited with winning the game, pitching a steady game for eight innings and getting a triple and a double against his former teammates.

The Cleveland Indians failed to profit by the Yank shortcomings and the "Fifty-fifty Browns" took their turn at winning. George Uhle lost his first game in five starts and Sam Gray won his first in a like number. Owen Carroll turned in a fine game against the Chicago White Sox, the Detroit Tigers winning 7-1. Bill Cissell, the expensive White Sox rookie, failed to hit safely for the first time in fifteen consecutive games. The Tigers won two of the series.

The Athletics ran into a rainstorm in Boston, but Connie will get another chance this afternoon. The Yankees' results were:

GIANTS' BOSS GIVEN BOUNCE

Judge McQuade, Treasurer of New York Ball Team, Removed From Office

New York, May 3.—Judge Francis X. McQuade, for ten years treasurer of the National Exhibition Company, which operates the New York Giants, was removed from office yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors of the corporation. In making official announcement of the case last night, spokesmen for the Giants said the move was made "in the interests of harmony on the ball club."

Leo J. Bondy, for many years personal attorney to Charles A. Stoneman, president of the club, was elected to succeed Judge McQuade. Other officers were re-elected, including John

J. McGraw, as vice-president and manager, and James J. Tierney as secretary. HOLDS LARGE SHARE
Judge McQuade, the third largest stockholder in the National Exhibition Company, became associated with the club in the winter of 1918-19, when Stoneman, McGraw and he bought the interest of the John T. Brush Estate from Harry N. Hempstead, son-in-law of Brush, and then president of the club. Several reported efforts on the part of Stoneman to buy McQuade's interest have failed in the last few years.

EXPECT GOOD BOXING CROWD

International Bouts at Victoria West To-morrow Should Be Good

From the way the fans turned out last evening to witness the local contestants in their training for the Victoria Boxing Club's bouts to-morrow evening at the Victoria West gymnasium, the promotion looks as if it will meet with success. The club members, after much labor, have converted the gymnasium into a good boxing arena and every seat in the hall will have an unobstructed view of the ring.

Quite a number of seat reservations have already been made, including several for ladies and up-island fans, who wish to witness the international card of events.

Seats for the contests can be reserved at Two Jacks' Dope and the Bull Cigar Store.

St. Princess Kathleen takes an excursion to Seattle, Saturday, May 12, leaving at 9 a.m.

FRISCH IS NOW BEHIND WANER

St. Louis Second Baseman Moves Up in Hitting Race; Waner Hits Twice

With Babe Ruth experiencing a day of comparative quiet as the Yanks absorbed a 9-5 beating in Washington, Paul Waner found an opportunity to corral the spotlight in the "Big Six" hitting race in the major baseball leagues. Paul helped himself to two hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 8, in ten innings, and his average mounted to .362, retaining first place for him.

Second place in the "Big Six" to-day is held by a newcomer, Frank Frisch, who replaced Kiki Cuyler. The former Frisch continued at such a slow pace that Frisch usurped his place. Hornby went hitless as the Phils led the Boston Braves a merry dance, but he remained ahead of Cobb.

POLICE INQUIRY IN VAN- COUVER BRINGS MANY QUESTIONS AND ANS- WERS

YESTERDAY'S SESSION
At yesterday afternoon's session of the inquiry Patrol Sergeant J. W. Tuning was recalled to the stand and asked by Mr. McGeer whether he had had any conversation with Detective Sergeant McLaughlin in connection with Constable W. G. Thompson, one of Tuning's officers.

The witness replied that Sergeant McLaughlin had advised him to "go very easy in Chinatown as he was liable to get into trouble down there." Answering further questions, Sergeant Tuning said he did not know what kind of trouble was referred to.

CONSTABLE THOMPSON TESTIFIES

Constable W. G. Thompson was then called. Joe Celona and his references to "the Big Boss at the City Hall" featured the evidence given by Constable Thompson, who told how he had "ridden Celona's place at 210 Keefer Street" because he was disgusted at the sight of Chinese going into the building to consort with white girls.

The tale of Celona's bitter denunciation of the patrolman's conduct and his boast that he "could have him fired off the beat" was related in detail.

"The Big Boss at the City Hall" would see to it the constable was removed, was Celona's threat, said Thompson.

"I found out the next night," said the officer, who the "Big Boss" was.

COMPLAINT REPORTED

Deputy Chief Leatherdale called Thompson into the chief's office the next night, said the witness, and told him the man running 210 Keefer Street had gone to "Mr. Taylor and complained the constable on the beat had been camping on the doorstep too much. The deputy told the constable, he said, that Mayor Taylor had been to see Chief Long and had complained to him.

"Use your own discretion, but don't make yourself too noticeable," was the deputy's advice, said Thompson, when he asked the official if he was to "lay off."

"I kept on the same as ever and gave them all the trouble I could for the rest of the month," testified the constable.

This happened about two years ago, he explained.

Later, the place at 210 Keefer became a bootlegging joint, said the witness, and Celona opened an establishment at 244 Hastings Street East where the constable swore he had seen Chinamen and white girls.

AT THE BACK DOOR

The first night the Hastings Street place was running he happened to be on that beat, and was trying the back door of the establishment. He was surprised when Celona appeared and wanted to know why Thompson did not leave him alone.

"He said it was his place," the officer testified.

DID NOT GET NUMBER

Celona had another similar place at 304 Hastings Street East, where an Italian woman was in charge, said Thompson. About two months ago he had approached it, and the woman had been quite "upset" when he flashed his light through the door.

"She followed me out onto the street to get my number," said the constable. "But I did not let her get it," he added.

GIVES NUMBERS

Mr. McGeer—Have you a list of been eight years on the force. During the past two years, he stated, conditions in respect of gambling were bad in the business section of the city around Pender, Main, Carroll and Cordova Streets. He had discussed the subject with Detective McLeod some time last fall.

KNOWN BY SQUAD

Constable Stewart declared he had reported these houses on a few occasions, and when pressed why he had not taken such action more often, declared he believed the squad in charge of gambling was fully aware of the situation.

"And there was, in your opinion, no use reporting them?" asked Mr. McGeer.

"No," replied the witness.

"Did you get any action or result from your reports?" he was asked.

"I can't say. No definite result, anyway," he responded.

SAW TICKETS MARKED

Constable Stewart said he had been in these places at times and found people gambling, marking tickets and playing "1, 2, 3." Chinamen, he said, were in charge.

In the past two years, he said in reply to queries, gambling had been carried on openly and without any apparent effort by police to suppress it.

"What is the character of the men who frequent these gambling dens?" asked Mr. McGeer.

"They are loose, disorderly persons, low criminal men who rob drunks," replied Constable Stewart. "All the riff-raff of the earth congregates in these places."

CONTROL POSSIBLE

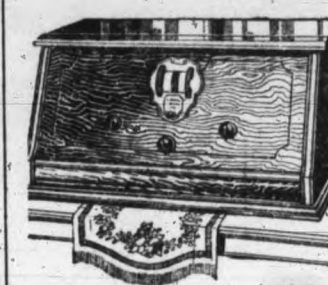

Constable Stewart said he believed that with any "effort worth while" this situation could be brought under control more than at the present moment. He believed the authorities were fully aware of the situation and didn't feel there was any use or particular necessity for reporting them. If he were to telephone in to the station he did not think there would be a raid immediately; the condition would be no different, he said, from what it was the day before or would be the day following. The same condition applied to disorderly houses.

In reply to a question whether this condition applied to "blind pigs," he

The bird, who reported hearing this skylark to The Times to-day, commenting upon a request made to the Publicity Bureau by a Calgary man who wished to go to possession of a European skylark from Victoria.

With seventy-one permits and a total of 225 taken in inspection fees, April proved the busiest month of the city wiring department in the last five years. It was stated by S. L. Wilson to-day. The figures include a portion of the electrical work at the city hall, Point Elvador, in respect of which the city and the contractors have reached an amicable understanding.

Nine chickens, the natural increase from stock purchased by Bola Singh from Jaquet Singh, some years ago, and until recently occupying neighboring yards—led their owners in County Court to-day. Before Judge Lampan Bola Singh alleged that the Jaquet Singh, the defendant in the suit, had removed two of his fowl under his eyes, and locked them in the Budden yard. Budden Singh as firmly denies the Jaquet Singh's story. The upshot of the neighboring disagreement was that the sheriff was called in, and impounded eight chickens, described by the plaintiff as of the red and black variety. The court is now asked to decide who owned the chickens. The trial proceeded with the interpretation of the English word "chicken" by F. C. Elliott, who appears for the plaintiff, and Norman Whittaker for the defendant.

VICTORIANS TRAPPED IN BUCKETSHOP

U.S. Post Office Gets Evidence Here Against Indicted Brokers

The experience and losses of Victorians caught in the alleged fake stock deals of Cameron, Michel and Company Inc., are being used by the United States Post Office Department as part of the case against the indicted brokers now being made of that firm in New York for fraud before a grand jury. The brokerage firm is 'howl' in receivership and is being investigated by U.S. post office inspectors and other officials investigating the alleged fraudulent activities of the defendants found through the records of the books in New York that a number of Victorians were customers of the firm, and were speculating in various issues it sponsored.

Gathering of evidence in Victoria from those who were victimized here was started by U.S. post office officials, and this evidence has now reached New York and is before the court there.

Victoria investors, the evidence shows, carried on their dealings with Cameron, Michel and Company, by mail, by long distance telephone and telegraph, sending sums of money at the suggestion of the brokerage house to buy stocks on which they sent out special tips.

A few months ago, the evidence shows one of the representatives of Cameron, Michel and Company, came all the way from New York to Victoria to induce some of the firm's clients here to buy more stock.

Night after night employees of the firm in New York would call up Victorian clients by long distance telephone and over 3,000 miles of wire, try to induce investors here to act on some of their tips, the evidence shows.

Although the court charge sets out the firm's tip, cleaned up fortunes.

The firm a few years ago built up a good reputation for itself by getting its clients to buy Green Cananea stock at $8 a share. This stock then went to $160 a share, and investors, who took the firm's tip, cleaned up fortunes.

Other big profits were made by those of the firm's clientele who acted on advice to buy Hecla, Anaconda and other solid stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

Following built up through such profitable advice, the firm began to urge its clients to get into Canario, which is a copper mine in Mexico, and said to be another Green Cananea stock. The firm's tip, cleaned up fortunes.

MILL RATE DEBATE IS BEFORE CITY

Special Meeting Tentatively Called For Friday to Hear Final Figures

Final decision on the mill rate to be struck by the city this year is expected to be made at a special meeting of the City Council tentatively summoned for 2:30 p.m. to-morrow.

A budget calling for the equivalent of 44 mills on the dollar, presented at the first of the year, has been reduced to a considerable extent, though the exact total of the reductions will not be known until the final analysis of the figures is presented by the city comptroller, D. A. Macdonald, who is now at work on his report.

The fixing of individual items in the estimated list of expenditures is about complete, and the next council meeting on the subject will be devoted to consideration of the mill rate to be struck.

Last year, after the council had revised its estimates, a final mill rate discussion led to the fixing of a mill rate of 44 mills on the dollar, and then the budget was cut to fit the estimated revenue from the lower mill rate. The same course must be followed this year.

Final action on the settling of the rate will be taken by the city within the next few days, as the rate-by-law must be completed and passed by May 15. The formation of a special committee to suggest last minute reductions, the course adopted last year, will be abandoned this year in favor of the settling of the rate, it is understood.

FOX BREEDING BIG INDUSTRY

Rotary Club Hears Review of Prospering Fur Industry

Rev. M. W. J. Bruce to-day entertained the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel with a review of the development of fox farming into one of the most prosperous industries of Canada. He recalled that in 1912 Prince Edward Island was the headquarters of the industry which has since extended throughout Canada and is extensive in the northern United States.

The fur value of a high grade silver fox in 1912 was over $2,000, and breeding stock of the best type sold for as high as $35,000. The foxbreeding business in 1912 was highly speculative, but the boom prices quickly collapsed and to-day the business is based on the worth of pelts, ranging from $150 to $300 each skin, although choice skins recently brought over $6,000 in New York.

STABLE AND PROSPERING

The industry is now on a sound basis on Vancouver Island, fine pelts being salable at $350 each. Mr. Bruce did not believe the supply was in danger of exceeding demand, with fur coming yearly more scarce, while people able to purchase fine furs are growing more numerous annually.

Many attempts have been made by furriers to imitate the silver fox, but so far without success, although other furs are imitated with ease.

Mr. Bruce described the life habits of the fox, the animals being monogamous, with litters ranging from two to seven pups. When the litter is first produced the mother is nervous and if interfered with often eats her young.

The development of fox farming in Canada has grown from 341 ranches in 1912 to 2,517 ranches last year, indicating that the industry is growing in importance. Vancouver Island is climatically well suited to fox farming and produces pelts equal to those produced in any other territory.

The total value of foxes and equipment in British Columbia to-day is $715,000, and on Vancouver Island is $26,000. In Canada the industry is valued at $1,107,530, of which ninety per cent is represented by silver foxes.

In 1926 live animals sold in Canada for breeding were worth over $3,724,000.

VOTE OF CONDOLENCE

The loss of the Kiwanis Club in the passing of A. L. Walker and Dr. Howard Miller was brought to the attention of the members by Percy Marchant, and letters of condolence will be sent to Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Miller and the Kiwanis Club. Mr. Marchant declared the whole community of Victoria had been bereaved in the passing of such progressive citizens.

President Fletcher announced that nominations to the directorate will be made on May 17, with voting on May 31. A nominating committee was selected at to-day's meeting to prepare a slate of candidates.

R. R. Webb told of the proposed caravan tour to Nanaimo, on Sunday morning. Members will leave the Victoria post office at 8 o'clock, on the Boys' Life Band, who will play at Duncan, Ladysmith, Chemainus and other intervening points.

Mrs. Florence Noel, soprano, rendered a number of songs, accompanied by Miss Marie McLaughlin.

FINED $50 FOR POINTING RIFLE

Leslie Cook Sentenced By Magistrate Jay in City Court This Morning

Charged with unlawfully pointing a rifle at his wife, Jean Cook, Leslie Cook was convicted and fined $50, or in default of payment sentenced to serve thirty days in jail, by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court this morning.

The magistrate, in summing up the case, stated that, although the gun had not been loaded, it was an offence according to the Criminal Code to point a loaded or unloaded gun at any person.

Jean Cook, 431 Hillside Avenue, wife of the accused, was the first witness called to the stand. She had been married to the accused for about seven years, but they had been separated for the last three months, witness testified.

Her husband had been away but had come back to the city on Wednesday, April 25. On Friday evening, April 27, he had walked into the house about 7 o'clock in the evening and had come to the kitchen. He had asked her to stay home and look after the children, she said, and this she had consented to do. Then—without reason at all—her husband had struck her several times, Mrs. Cook told the court.

COOK THEN HAD RUN INTO THE DINING ROOM AND APPEARED AGAIN WITH A RIFLE IN HIS HANDS, she said. Her husband had declared: "You—I'll slaughter you all," witness testified.

Witness then told how Wallace Alexander, 1043 Pandora Avenue, a visitor at her house, and Douglas Sinclair, a boarder, had seized Cook and taken the gun away from him. In the meantime Phoebe Donn and Cecilia Salmon, two girls who were staying with Mrs. Cook, had fled in a panic, witness stated.

Alexander had driven her to the city police station, where she asked for protection, witness stated.

Alexander told of taking the gun from Cook. When Mrs. Cook had asked him to drive her home, the police station he had thrown the gun into the basement, he said.

Sinclair, Phoebe Donn and Alexander corroborated the evidence given by Mrs. Cook.

MR. COOK, testifying on the stand, denied that he had struck Mrs. Cook and also declared he had not pointed the gun with the intention of alarming anyone. He had been packing his clothes and the remainder of his belongings with the intention of going to Vancouver, witness stated. He admitted being angry, but declared—he had been taking the gun into another room at the time when he was supposed to have pointed it at his wife.

Constable Duncan McPherson told of proceeding to Mrs. Cook's home on Hillside Avenue, where he had found a rifle in the basement. It was unloaded. He had found another unloaded rifle in the dining-room, witness stated.

Uncle Wiggly and the Queer Marks

Copyright, 1928, by McClure News, paper Syndicate.

"Hurray for Uncle Wiggly! Hurray for Uncle Wiggly!" shouted the animal boys and girls who had come to Sister Sallie's party.

Uncle Wiggly gave Sallie some nuts.

An Everyday Story

Francis Henry Cook

London, Ont.—"I was in a general run-down state of health. I had indigestion and my stomach was weak and so sore I could not bear to touch it. I got where I did not have any health at all, was not able to follow my usual line of work. I saw where Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended for stomach trouble so I decided to try it and it relieved me of my indigestion and weak stomach, also the abdominal distress and built me up in health. I can highly recommend the 'Golden Medical Discovery' to anyone who suffers as I did. It is excellent!"—Francis Henry Cook—441 Elizabeth St.

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1928

Sinister stars dominate to-day, according to astrologers who counsel conservative action in all business affairs.

There is a threatening aspect for all who desire to gain high positions, and the configuration indicates disappointment for those who have apparently the best political chances.

Women are warned that they will be peculiarly susceptible to evil reports of every sort while this rule prevails.

Neptune rising at this time is supposed to encourage corruption and duplicity. Many factions will develop in political parties.

The seers again prognosticate the rise of a new party or at least growth of power on the part of non-partisan women.

Severe storms and much wind may be expected all through this month and the early summer.

Many decided climatic changes will be noted in the United States, and Florida will benefit greatly, if the stars are rightly read.

Earthquakes may be expected in parts of the country not usually affected by seismic disasters, astrologers predict.

Convulsions of nature must be read as but precursors of great changes and uprising among inhabitants of the earth, it is announced by those who read the planetary signs.

Criminals will continue to flourish during the summer which will be a period of daring outrages in many cities.

Again a popular demand for law enforcement is prognosticated, and this will lead to a radical movement on the part of citizens in many parts of the country.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful about safeguarding their incomes, earned and unearned.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly clever in the use of the hands, but they may be also unusually liable to accidents.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Trouble.

Make up your mind to-day that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same. Go to MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co., or any other good druggist to-day and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past. Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Anti-septic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded. (Adv.)

START BRIDGE APPROACH WORK

Important Improvements at Parson's Bridge Under Way; Drivers Cautioned

Rounding out the new Parson's Bridge scheme, the Public Works Department has started to build new southern approaches to this fine concrete structure, which forms the Island Highway gate to Victoria. Ganges of men now at work will replace the former dangerous curve approaching the old Parson's Bridge with a wide, paved road, sweeping down from the Colwood Hill. Meanwhile work which will eliminate more curves on the Mahah Highway is continuing rapidly at Goldstream. Hundreds of tons of rock, blown off the hillside where the road drops down to Goldstream, are being moved by steam shovel and used for fills at other points. A broad, easy grade will replace the present narrow tortuous route just above Goldstream when this work is completed shortly. Public Works Department officials asked motorists to travel slowly on the highways at points where these works are proceeding. There will be no halt in traffic.

BIG COMEDY AT CRYSTAL GARDEN

Co-optimist Company to Present "Freezing a Mother-in-law" on Friday Evening

"Come prepared to enjoy the laugh of your life," is the message being broadcast this week from the Co-optimist Comedy Company at the Crystal Garden. For their weekly play the company has chosen a roaring farce entitled "Freezing a Mother-in-Law." As a vehicle for the creation of laughs it is said to be on a par with any of the most renowned laugh-producers. A young couple (Dennis Glick and Lorna Lewis) having obtained the consent of the future mother-in-law (Mrs. P. E. Corby). Upon this situation, out of a blue sky, comes a prodigious relation from America, one Ferdinand Swift, complete with a new invention for the freezing of animals or human beings. The part is to be played by Richard Blomfield. Ferdinand Swift soon learns that there are new possibilities in his invention, given the right circumstances for their exploitation. The evening's entertainment at the Crystal Garden concludes with two hours of dancing, to which the audience is invited.

MEXICO EXCITED PICKING NATION'S BEST SENORITA

Galveston, Tex., May 3.—Mexico may have only one presidential hat in the ring at the present moment. But speaking of mantillas in the sense of their being the feminine equivalent of sombreros, her national candidates are legion. Any woman that has been the experience of Excalibur, a leading Mexican City newspaper, which is now conducting a national contest to choose a girl to represent Mexico in the Third International Pageant of Purity and Ninth Annual Bathing Girl Revue in Galveston, June 2 to 5, inclusive.

Nothing of its kind in the history of the Republic of Mexico has attracted such attention. Excalibur has advised Willett L. Roe, managing director of the pageant. Hundreds of señoritas in every state in the southern republic have been entering the contest since its inception, and from all indications Miss Mexico of 1928 will be an entry to be reckoned with by the favored among the entries now expected from fifteen foreign countries, thirty states and a score of larger American cities.

Virtually a full page daily is being devoted by Excalibur to advertising the contest, and each day pictures of new entries graphically portray what may be expected in the way of Latin-American beauty from that country. Mexico has been represented in the International Pageant of Purity since its start three years ago, having shared honors with Canada in the first international bathing girl revue in this city. Annually Miss Mexico's visit has been the occasion of much gaiety on the part of Mexican colony residents from all parts of Texas and the southwest, and this year is expected to be no exception. Through the co-operation of Y. M. Vazquez, Mexican consular representative at Galveston, numerous events in her honor are being arranged. Excalibur, which is sponsoring the selection of Miss Mexico, also is promoting the non-stop Mexico City-Washington flight by which Major Emilio Carranza, the "Lindbergh of Mexico," will officially repay the visit of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to Mexico.

No Overcrowding At Police Inquiry In Terminal City

Vancouver, May 3.—Reluctant to be left entirely out of the picture in the police investigation that is being held at the court house here, the Vancouver fire department sent a representative yesterday. Appearing in the midst of the morning session of the inquiry, District Fire Chief J. H. de Graves commanded that the crowd of spectators be cleared from the doors and passageways of the chambers of the inquiry. Commissioner R. S. Lennie ordered the crowd to clear away so as to allow free passage in case of accident. The throng massed at the back of the room refused to move. The constables were ordered by Lieut.-Colonel H. D. Hulme, clerk of the inquiry, to clear a passage to the door. "Cries of 'I'm a taxpayer,' 'I've got a right to be here' and 'Put us out yourself, governor,' were heard from the back of the room. One strident voice asked: 'Why don't you rent a hall that's big enough?' It was necessary to eject a few of the onlookers and the constables took up positions where they could keep the passageway open.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE NIGHT PATROL" IS MELODRAMATIC AT COLUMBIA TO-DAY

A racing auto tearing along a country road—a boy standing on the threshold of eternity—with a "shock" about to be given the "chair" in which he sits—a breakdown—the car wallowing in a water-filled ditch—not an instant to spare. The above is but a brief word-picture of the big dramatic climax scene which gives "The Night Patrol," Dick Talmadge's current F.B.O. production at the Columbia Theatre, a melodramatic punch all beholders will long remember. "The Night Patrol" is distinguished, too, by the fact that it establishes the agile star as a actor of high skill and power. While stress is laid upon the comedy phases of the racing story by Frank Howard Clark it has several moments of smashing big drama, as well.

The cast is above the average, including such sterling favorites as Mary Carr, Gladys Hulette, Charles Clary, Grace Darmond, Victor Dillingham and Arthur Conrad.

"THE ICE FLOOD" ON SCREEN AT THE VARIETY THEATRE

The opportunity afforded him to combine all of his various talents and accomplishments influenced George B. Seitz to choose a career as film director as his permanent profession. The director of "The Ice Flood," the Universal-Jewel, at the Variety Theatre to-day, has been an art student, a stage leading man, a playwright, a stage director, a star of serials, a film production expert and now a director. The latter occupation, he finds, combines the work of all the others. Kenneth Harlan and Viola Dana play the featured roles in Seitz's latest picture, "The Ice Flood."

FAMOUS TENNIS STAR IS SEEN AT PLAYHOUSE

Charles Lane is one of the well-known players in the richly endowed cast of "The Music Master," the Belasco play that Allan Dwan made into a motion picture at the Fox Eastern Theatre. Alan B. Franklin has the title role, and the romantic leads are taken by Lois Moran and Neil Hamilton.

When Mr. Lane and Miss Moran appeared together in "Paddock," in her middle-aged admirer. In "The Music Master" he is her stepfather. The supporting cast includes William B. Cull and Marcia Harris. "The Music Master" is being shown at the Playhouse Theatre this week.

STAGE NUMBERS PLEASE CROWDS AT COLISEUM

The vaudeville at the Coliseum is the hit of this week's programme. First on the bill is Joan Wright, soprano, rendering two classical numbers. The air boat of the opera, and Miss Wright, gold medalist of the Victoria musical festival. Next on the programme is Billie English, female impersonator. In a comedy sketch entitled, "My First Part," closing the vaudeville programme is Lambert Colomblin, L.A.B. Victoria's premiere violinist and Broadway star, who has just returned from Europe. On the screen is Al Wilson, who is rated as the greatest stunt aviator in motion pictures to-day, in "Three Miles Up."

SPLENDID PICTURE OF WAR BIRDS ON DOMINION SCREEN

There have been many aviation pictures set to the screen since the Armistice was signed, but never until now has there been an aviation picture in which such an imposing cast of war birds appear, as in the "Legion of the Condemned," at the Dominion Theatre this week. Not only does this picture of the air boast of its authentic cast, but the production itself was directed by a former member of the Lafayette Flying Corps, William Wellman. Heading the list of aviators who fought in the air during the War is Captain Sterling Campbell, one of the five ranking aces of the Royal Air Force, who has many planes to his credit. On the enemy side is Lieutenant Rudolph Schach, a member of the famous "Rhineland Circus," No. 15, who has twelve Allied planes to his credit. Others who saw service and who have more than five planes each to their credit are: Ted Parsons, a pilot who flew for five years with the French; Ross Cook, Robert de Couedic, Tom Watson and Al Johnston. Director William Wellman, who also directed "Wings" for Paramount, was a member of the Lafayette Escadrille during the war. J. Monk Saunders, the author of the story and who also wrote "Wings," was an instructor of aviation.

STARS IN CAPITOL PICTURE HAVE HAD INTERESTING LIVES

A curious mixture of personalities is to be found in almost every group of actors making up a motion picture cast. But a more varied assortment could hardly be found than in "Burning Daylight," the First National Picture at the Capitol Theatre here.

belies his screen personality, which generally consists of miners, lumberjacks, sailors and what-not, by being an exceptionally studious and intellectual person, and who is a pianist of great ability.

Doris Kenyon, who plays the feminine lead, and is Mrs. Sills in private life, shares with her husband a leaning toward music. She is in "Who's Who" not as an actress, but as a poetess.

Arthur Stone, supporting player, was a vaudeville comedian and played the same act for seventeen years before going into the movies.

Frank Hagney, well-known screen "heavy," once held the sculling championship of Australia, and recently won a rowing race between Catalina Island and the mainland, a distance of twenty-seven miles.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre all this week are The Deacon Jones negro quartette; Katherine Scott, clever comedienne, in a musical novelty; Harold Bechtel, the singing master of ceremonies, in a new skit, and two specialty numbers by the Capitol Concert Orchestra, under the leadership of Al Prescott.

Film Men Talk Of Co-operation

Paris, May 3.—The tension in moving picture circles was much relieved yesterday on a news item that the Minister of Education of France and Will Hays, representing the United States interests, were getting together and that Mr. Hays would remain here until an understanding was reached. Much ill-feeling among the French was removed by Mr. Hays's explanation that there was no intention to close the American exhibiting houses, and that the Americans were ready to meet the French half-way in a compromise. M. Herriot expressed amicable sentiments.

PLAYERS' CLUB PLANS LONG TOUR

U.B.C. Students Will Present "Polly With a Past" Here May 7

The thirteenth annual tour of the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia opened yesterday at Powell River, where the players made their appearance for the first time in the history of the club. With the exception of a few days in the week of convocation, the cast will be steadily engaged during the remainder of May in performing the successful three-act comedy, "Polly With a Past," with which they delighted large audiences in Vancouver, New Westminster, Ladner and Cloverdale.

After performances in Chilliwack and Duncan, the play will be presented in the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, May 7, in aid of the Victoria Kiwanis Club's charitable objectives. The Victoria performance is the result of the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Helen MacKenzie, as well as the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Premier of British Columbia, and Mrs. MacLean, Mayor and Mrs. J. Carl Pendray. Thereafter the club will make a tour of the Interior, giving performances in no less than twelve provincial centres.

This establishes a record in the number of Players' Club performances, since the play will be given at least twenty-two times before the season closes. This custom of taking the annual play on tour does much to establish a closer contact between the provincial university and the communities of the province. The demand for tickets for their performance here on May 7 continues to be keen, and intending patrons are advised to secure seats early.

"LET'S GO" IS FULL OF HUMOR

Comic Musical Creation Is One of Season's Finest Revues

"Let's Go." This riot of beauty, mirth and melody opens to-night under the Gyro Club's auspices at the Royal Victoria Theatre, and will be repeated to-morrow and Saturday nights. The scintillating revue, "Let's Go," is the show of the season, and not only Victorians but scores of people from Up-island centres will witness its offering here this week.

"Shaking the Blues Away," "Zulu Walla," the male ballet, "Sentimental Sillies" and "Goody-Goos" are some of the jazzy, peppy features of the production. And they will certainly "go over."

Opening the revue will be a bevy of Victoria's best girl dancers doing a synchronized number that will be a novelty to theatregoers and one of the hits of the performance.

One of the most picturesque scenes will be "A Glimpse of Yesteryear," in which the Misses Velma Bucklin, pianist; Adele Bucklin, violinist, and Mary Bucklin, cellist, instrumental trio, will offer a period number. Mrs. Arthur Dorell will sing "The Second Minuet," by Besley, in this act.

Another outstanding turn will be the interpretative ballet dance, which will be provided by fourteen pupils of the Russian Ballet School of Dancing, with Miss Doreen Wilson and Miss Madge McCowan taking the principal roles.

"The show is the finest which the Victoria Gyro have presented, and capacity houses are expected for the three performances. It is a revue of exceptional merit, with fun, frolic and frivolity predominating throughout. "Let's Go."
